Mystery Crimea Talks Mending Soviet Split

LONDON (CP)—The Soviet leaders brought Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito and Hungary's Erno Gero face-to-face today in Yalta in an apparent effort to make them end their long-standing feud.

Moscow radio announced that Gero and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin had joined Tito, Soviet Communist Party Leader Nikita S. Khrushchev and security chief Gen. Ivan Serov in the mysterious Communist goings on in the Crimea.

The Moscow broadcast made it sound like a pleasant summer outing with a party of 20 or so high Communists and their wives strolling along the beach and sitting down to a luxurious meal. But there were growing indications the meeting was brought on by a major schism in the Communist party.

TITO APPEASED

Tito has become more friendly in recent months with most of the Communist satellites. But he has remained cool to Hungary and Albania, his neighbors who were second only to Russia in attacking him when he broke with Joseph Stalin.

The Communist earlier "appeased" Tito by ousting his arch-enemy, Matyas Rakosi, as head of the Communist party in Hungary and replacing him with Gero. But Tito has never indicated any great fondness for Gero, who has made little radical changes in Hungarian policy.

Rakosi was dismissed for being too strong a Stalin man, following too closely the spirit of the individual." Many others consider Gero equally pro-Stalin and say that is the Hungarian-Yugoslav relationship have not improved.

When Gero first came to Moscow there were widespread predictions he would not last long. The new Kremlin Airlift was renewed today. Gero might be on his way to the Balkans.

ADERS PRESENT
Moscow Radio's list of other communist leaders in the Crimea for a walk along the sea Sunday included Katerina Furman, first woman elected to the Supreme Soviet and a close friend of Khrushchev; L. I. Brezhnev, secretary of the Soviet Communist Party central committee; Marshal Andrei Gromyko, commander of the Kiev military district and the Soviet ambassador to Yugoslavia.

Gero's dramatic appearance on the scene mean only one thing, observers said. The Communists are pressing Tito to patch up the quarrel with Hungary that dates back to the 1948 break with Stalin and continues severe.

Labor Party Blasts Eden's Suez Policy

BLACKPOOL, Eng. (Reuters)—The Labor party today passed an emergency resolution condemning Prime Minister Eden's government for "lamentable handling of the Suez crisis."

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd today formally declared the Suez Canal Users Association (SCUA) inaugurated after 15 countries announced their decision to join it.

Lloyd was presiding over a conference of the 18 countries which have pronounced themselves in favor of international control of the Suez Canal, nationalized by Egypt July 26.

Three countries—Japan, Ethiopia and Pakistan—have not yet decided whether to become members of SCUA. Their delegates nevertheless attended today's opening session and Lloyd invited them to continue participating as observers until their governments have finally made up their minds about membership.

EXPERTS TO REPORT
The 18 envoys are not expected to meet in plenary session again at least until Wednesday.

IS STALINISM BEING REVIVED IN RUSSIA?

That is the top question in the minds of Western diplomats in view of the current conference in Yalta between Soviet chiefs Bulganin and Khrushchev and Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia and Hungary's Erno Gero. This possibility, with all its ramifications for the West, was foreseen two months ago by Canadian External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson. Tito, right, and Khrushchev, left, escort Mrs. Tito on departure from Belgrade for Crimea by air.

Red Feather Total Close to $20,000

A total of $19,643 was collected for Greater Victoria Community Chest by noon today.

COMMUNITY CHEST THERMOMETER

Goal $220,000
Today $19,643

The total represents receipts by advance canvassers and first returns from 1,000 men and women canvassers who set out this morning to call on business, industry and staffs of public buildings.

The figure is almost 9 per cent of the $220,000 target figure sought by the end of October.

Officials said the first announced total indicates response is about the same as was noted on the first day of the 1955 campaign.

ENCOURAGING

"While early returns are encouraging," said campaign chairman Harry Gladwell, "we will need support of every citizen this year to raise the additional 10 per cent required to enable the 19 Red Feather services to carry on their essential health-and-welfare activities in 1957."

The annual residential canvass, which will swell the number of volunteer canvassers to 2,000, starts Oct. 16.

The campaign got under way Sunday night with a canvassers' rally at the Odeon Theatre.

More than 1,000 persons attended the rally to hear pep talks by Community Chest president R. B. Wilson, campaign manager Stuart Keate, who was featured speaker. A parade of flags and shields bearing the names of the member agencies was carried out by Victoria Girls' Drill Team. Later the audience was treated to a preview of a new movie.

Community Chest flags, a red feather on a white background, will be displayed for the duration of the drive at city hall, the B.C. Electric building and at Eaton's department store.

PRAYER FOR TODAY
Grant us, O Lord, this day so to will and think and feel and do that at its end we may be found stronger in faith and hope and love, and more nearly like unto our Lord and Master, Jesus Christ. Amen.

The French and British governments are said to be now convinced they can't go it alone and also can expect nothing much in the way of U.S. support until after the Nov. 6 vote.

Diplomatic experts here say Britain and France are to come to the conclusion that the attempt to wrest the Suez Canal from the hands of President Nasser of Egypt has run into a solid roadblock—the American presidential election.

FARMER BURNED TOT TO DEATH BY MISTAKE

COPENHAGEN (AP)—A horrified Danish father stirred the embers of a bonfire on his farm and discovered that he had burned his two-year-old son to death. Police believe the boy was hiding in the sticks the father, Detlef Keller, was about to burn, and was overcome by smoke when the fire was lit.

Waitresses Admit Part In Grave Orgy

ALBERNI (Special)—Two teenage waitresses, involved in the grave desecration case here, today pleaded guilty before Magistrate Thomas Patterson.

Pleading guilty to offering indugity to a human body were Alma Doreen Lockner, 19, and Jean Gibson, 17.

The girls and their companions, David Winslow Ferguson, 19, and William Nelson, 18, will be held in Oakalla Prison on the mainland before the case is tried in Alberni. Tentative trial date is October 6.

Numerous friends and relatives of the two boys appeared at the police station this morning as the foursome was leaving for the mainland jail. Several heckled reporters, calling them "a bunch of vultures."

The two girls and Nelson have now pleaded guilty while Ferguson has reserved his plea.

A week ago Sunday a male corpse was unearthed in Alberni's Greenwood Cemetery, and dragged to the surface of the ground by a logging chain attached to one ankle. Grave headstones were also thrown around in a midnight orgy.

Diefenbaker, Hees Rated Tops in Leadership Race

OTTAWA (CP)—A tight race between John Diefenbaker and George Hees for the Progressive Conservative leadership emerged as a strong possibility today as Commons members met in caucus to discuss plans for appointing a successor to Hon. George Drew.

WORLD SERIES PREVIEW

Dodgers Sure Can Beat Their Jinx

By LEO H. PETERSEN
NEW YORK (UP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers who did it the hard way all season, vowed today to smash the National League's two longest world series jinxes by making it two in a row over the New York Yankees.

Brooklyn loaded grain cars of a westbound CPR freight train were derailed Sunday 20 miles east of Revelstoke, CPR officials said here today.

The plane took off from Burns Lake, 125 miles west of Prince George, with the sick infant Sunday morning but failed to arrive at a refuelling point on schedule. The RCAF Canoe was called in to search for the Piper after it completed an unsuccessful hunt for two flying prospectors, Bert Goodridge and Bert Lloyd, lost last week northeast of Prince George.

The plane took seven hours, 18 minutes on its ill-fated flight here from Aden—an average of nearly 500 miles an hour.

EXPLOSIONS HEARD

As it appeared through the mist over the London airport a small explosion was heard and smoked billowed from the plane.

The jet seemed to lurch upward about 100 feet, then plunged in a mass of smoke and flame.

An airline official said it bounced as it hit the runway, and "there was then a tremendous explosion that shook the airport building."

Visibility at the time of the crash was less than 500 yards.

A large group of Russians, at the airport to welcome Bolshoi Ballet dancers from Moscow in Soviet jet airliners, saw the crash.

'Vulcan' Explodes On Landing

LONDON (CP)—A giant jet Vulcan bomber missed the runway at mist-shrouded London Airport today and crashed in flames before a distinguished crowd waiting to welcome the pride of the RAF home from a triumphant flight to Australia and back.

It was the crew of six died as the massive "Mighty Bat" roared out of the driving rain and suddenly plunged into the ground while being "talked in" because of bad visibility.

The remaining two aboard—British's bomber chief, Air Marshal Sir Harry Broadhurst, and the pilot, Sqdn. Ldr. Donald Howard—made miraculous last-second escapes as their ejection seats hurtled them through the cabin roof. They suffered minor bruises.

B.C. Ship Aground, 30 Passengers Safe

PORT HARDY, B.C. (CP)—The coastal freighter operated by Union Steamships Ltd., 1,500-ton Cardena Iron Duval, was towed to this north Vancouver Point, 213 miles northwest of Vancouver, where she ran aground in heavy rain late Sunday night.

The extent of damage to the ship was not known but it was reported a few bow plates were buckled and the rudder smashed.

The Cardena's 32 crew members remained aboard the vessel from the time it went aground until it was safely in Port Hardy.

All the passengers were brought to Port Hardy safely by forestry department and RCMP launches and private boats.

The ship had discharged freight and mail here and was continuing north to Nanaimo and Ocean Falls when it grounded at 10:55 p.m.

MRS. HANNA CHAPMAN

One of 14 children, she has a son, Noel, 76, 20 Beechwood, and daughter, Mrs. Alice Roberts of Vancouver, five grandchildren and 41 great-grandchildren.

Her mother and brother both lived to be 102, but members of her family are not noted for longevity, she said.

Still spry and cheerful, Mrs. Barker enjoys walking, "but it's not so easy now."

What does she think of nodding women?

"I just don't think about them," she answered. "What are they doing now?"

Among well-wishers on her birthday was Mrs. S. F. Watson, who won't be 100 years old till one of the 41 passengers were treated for minor injuries.

Arms, Legs Torn Off Victims

ALGIERS (AP)—Terrible bombs wrecked two crowded cafes in downtown Algiers Sunday night. Two more bombs exploded nearby. Fifty-eight persons were injured, 25 critically.

The bombs were timed carefully to burst soon after the second showings in movie houses when streets and eating places in the area were filled with theatre-goers.

The explosions ripped arms, legs and hands from screaming victims.

REPEAT CONCERT TONIGHT

Violin Artistry of Goodman Captivates Symphony Audience

By AUDREY S.D. JOHNSON

If Sunday's concert at the Royal Theatre is any criterion of what is to follow, musical director Hans Gruber has launched the Victoria Symphony Orchestra on what is most brilliant, and certainly one of its most ambitious seasons.

The afternoon provided some intensely satisfying and often thrilling orchestral periods and a good soloist whose violin artistry left little to be desired.

It is a regrettable comment on the state of things artistic in Canada, that Hyman Goodman, the distinguished concert master of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, should have heretofore been virtually unknown to Pacific Coast audiences.

SPREAD FAME

The occasion, however, serves to re-state a secondary but important function of the symphony orchestra—that of spreading the fame of top national talent.

Mr. Goodman's mastery of his violin is complete and authoritative. Technically he is capable of raising eyebrows among the most initiated. But what is most impressive is the quality of his performance, in terms of sheer artistry.

This was obvious throughout the Bruch G minor Concerto and Saint Saens' familiar Rondo Capriccioso. There was a fine discernment in the poise and balance of phrase upon phrase, in the versatility of tonal color and textures and in the so fully revealed character of the music at all times.

MAGIC EFFECT

The lovely Bruch adagio was

inexpressibly moving, so magical in effect as to hold the audience suspended in stillness before the spirited finale commenced.

The orchestra, which under Gruber's perceptive direction handled its role of accompanist and partner to the soloist securely and with sensitivity, opened the program with the tockwok arrangement of Bach's great organ Passacaglia and Fugue in C Minor.

If it must be admitted that the fugue was not all one could wish in point of clarity and

LONGER, LOWER, WIDER

Ford, Chrysler Cars Reveal Major Changes

DETROIT (CP)—Longer, lower and wider design changes in two major automobile lines were announced today in advance of dealer showings of the new 1957 models across the United States.

Chrysler Corp. said its changes are the most sweeping in history. The 1957 Fords will be longer and lower, and for the first time Ford division cars will be produced in two sizes, named Custom and Fairlane.

Chrysler's changes include a new suspension system, deep-centre steering-wheels, emphasized tail fins and dual-type headlights.

Ford Motor Co., which already has announced spending $200,000,000 to develop its Ford division 1957 cars, made public that its styling changes include hooded headlights, forward-slanting grilles, windshields wrapping farther around the sides and rear fender fins.

The new suspension, which Chrysler calls "torsion-air," combines torsion-bar springing in the front, with ball joints for steering ease, "anti-dip" mountings, longer rear springs set farther apart for great stability and low-pressure tires said to, eliminate much road noise and vibration.

Killing Off the Sockeye

MR. ROBERT J. SCHOETTLER, supervisor of fisheries for Washington State and chairman of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission, has issued a blunt warning.

He says that the Fraser River sockeye fisheries face extinction unless international control is established over net fishing off the west coast of Vancouver Island and Washington outside the territorial limits.

Mr. Schoettler is neither bluffing nor starting at shadows. His statement follows reports of intensive activity off the west coast by both U.S. and Canadian boats. There is, however, conflict over the statement that fishermen of both nations are using mile-long nets. Canadian authorities say that Canadian fishermen, under regulations, are limited to nets 300 fathoms long. Some U.S. boats are using nylon nets that stretch a mile.

How long, ask the Canadians, can fishermen of this country be held to the shorter nets if their competitors from the U.S. are getting away with much larger equipment? What purpose is served by Canadian regulations if the sockeye fisheries of the Fraser and other streams are being depleted to the threat of extinction by Americans?

The United States faces difficulties in its approach to the matter. Fisheries in that country fall within the jurisdiction of the states and hence are removed from direct federal action. National policy is controlled by particular state interests. The situation can, however, be controlled. Boats can be refused clearance or can be prevented from landing with their loads. Faced with these sanctions, fishermen can be forced to observe conservation regulations probably providing a pattern.

In the long run, the fishermen themselves will benefit. Allowed to continue their present practices, they would fish themselves right out of business and, in the process, destroy a resource which puts food in the mouths of millions.

A Neighborly Opportunity

TODAY MARKS THE START OF the personal canvass for the Greater Victoria Community Chest. Within the month to come as many residents as possible will be approached by a neighbor—either at their jobs or at home—and asked for a donation.

It would be easy enough to say no, or to make just a token gesture of a few cents. But that would not solve the problem of the people who need our help. From unborn babies obviously control must and will be enforced. Primarily it is required to protect a vital food source. If individuals in the fishing industry are prepared on grounds of self-interest only to fish themselves out of a job—and some are so inclined in the chase for a fast dollar—they cannot be permitted to jeopardize the livings of others dependent on the resource they are destroying.

Nor can the international aspect of this problem be ignored.

Unrestricted practices beyond territorial limits are threatening the whole fabric of the Canadian-U.S.-Japanese fishing convention covering salmon, herring and halibut.

By terms imposed in the agreement following the war, Japanese fishermen were required to stay out of Pacific high seas fisheries where nationals of the other two signatory powers were fishing, under control, to the fullest extent possible without injuring the fisheries. By this agreement conservation measures could be taken.

If it becomes apparent that Canadian and U.S. fishermen are operating without control and endangering the fisheries themselves, then the terms of prohibition against Japanese coming over to these grounds carry no weight. The result of such an invasion from the other side of the ocean need not be labored.

Action undoubtedly will be taken by Canada and the United States. The U.S. can and does control fisheries in Alaska, where, because of the territory's status, states' rights do not intervene. Means will be found to establish comparable control over American boats off the West Coast—with the halibut regulations probably providing a pattern.

In the long run, the fishermen themselves will benefit. Allowed to continue their present practices, they would fish themselves right out of business and, in the process, destroy a resource which puts food in the mouths of millions.

Moreover, the question arises: If the U.S. can control its nationals in the halibut fisheries beyond territorial limits—as it does—why can it not control salmon fishermen?

Victoria Loses

VICTORIANS UNQUESTIONABLY appreciate the value of the new B.C. Electric submarine cable bringing power from mainland sources to the Island.

It is questionable, however, if they appreciate their loss of a rate differential previously accorded them. That disappeared when Mr. A. E. Grauer announced lowering of suburban rates.

"In our Island system," he said, "we have been increasingly anxious to justify elimination of the differential between our urban and suburban residential electrical rates, or roughly, to bring our residential rates outside Victoria down to the level of those in Victoria. The increasing transit deficit in the Victoria area plus the substantial sums we are having to spend on underground work in Victoria have taken away the original justification for higher rates outside."

The putting into service of the submarine interconnection makes it economically feasible to remove the differential, and I am glad to state that the Public Utilities Commission has approved revised tariffs which make the residential rates of Victoria City apply to the other areas we serve on Vancouver Island."

The complex mathematics of rate-fixing are beyond the understanding of most laymen. But the layman believes that close settlement in cities and urban areas reduces the costs of distributing power to residential users. That, he understands, has been the reason why Victoria has enjoyed its favorable position in relation to areas outside the densely settled districts.

He has been told by Mr. Grauer that this preference has been withdrawn because the bus system, subsidized by electricity users who may or may not patronize buses, is running far in the red and because Victoria has called for removal of overhead wiring and the job of putting it underground will be expensive to the company.

No suggestion is contained in Mr. Grauer's speech that the residents of Victoria may also be subsidizing the electrical user in the suburbs—the householder who now enjoys parity with the city dweller.

The Victorian, moreover, has not had his attention directed to the vast increase in domestic power use—some place it at 15 per cent annually cumulative over recent years—in his own locality and thereby pre-empting the B.C. Electric.

No doubt these points have been given due consideration by the Public Utilities Commission. And the Victoria citizen is not being asked to take more out of his own pocket to pay his light and appliance power bill. He may wonder, however, how much he is paying for underground wiring and for transportation.

The B.C. Power Commission may be wondering, too. It provides suburban service in various parts of the province. It lacks the rich cream of revenue from densely-settled areas. How, it may ask itself, are its suburban rates to compare with those of B.C. Electric areas on Vancouver Island where the standard city residential charges now prevail?

The 5th Will Continue

AN OFFICIAL INDICATION of the identity of the old 5th will be preserved comes as a Greater Victorians.

as the 5th Harbor Detachment, the historic unit threatened with oblivion again. The unit which can look nearly 100 years so much a part of this community to fade away without protest. It is cheering to hear that the designation and the identity of the unit will continue in a new form—whether field artillery, anti-aircraft or some other branch is not yet known. Whatever the new function, we may be sure that the officers and men of the 5th will continue their fine record, upheld in war and peace through the years.

'United Appeal' Means All of Us

TIME TO FLEX OUR MUSCLES

By B. A. TOBIN

Be Generous to Yourself

IT SEEMS that a couple of tourists who were camera addicts met at a cafe in Paris one day and were talking over their experiences. "This morning," said one, "I saw an old crone huddled on the sidewalk like a bundle of rags. She was hungry and homeless, and she told me she once was a wealthy countess but she'd lost all her family and money. Now she has to get a living by begging in the streets."

"The poor old thing," exclaimed the other fellow, "What did you give her?" "Well," said the photographer, "It was quite sunny so I gave her 1/11 at 1/100 of a second."

For that one, I guess the width of your grin depends on whether you're hungry or not. But it seems to me that the camera man's attitude was very much like that of a lot of folks when they're confronted with a situation that calls for their help.

The appeal doesn't get through to them, not because they're mean or heartless, but just because their minds are busy with something else.

Visibility Poor

They wouldn't turn down a child who was lost, they wouldn't refuse to help a blind person across the street. But a general call for help in the form of a money contribution doesn't seem to reach them.

It's sunny and bright, as it was for the photographer, but not bright enough for them to see their responsibility to a human in need.

This may be the fault of modern organized charities as much as of the individual. The average citizen is being trained wrongly right from the start.

I'm all for organized charities from the standpoint of the job they do. Money needed in large amounts these days to right some of the misfortunes of our society. The youngster who is left without a proper home, the blind person who needs encouragement and training, the aged man or woman who deserves a better deal in the closing years, the crippled or destitute citizen who should have a helping hand—these are all responsibilities of the rest of us who are more fortunate.

This is the fault of modern organized charities as much as of the individual. The average citizen is being trained wrongly right from the start.

Not only that—when it becomes a matter of flesh and blood instead of figures, you'll find you want to give more. The generosity muscle will be working again and you'll feel all the stronger for it.

In its early forms, charity consisted of DOING something for someone else. If somebody was hungry you made a pot of soup and gave him some. If an orphan needed aid you took the child into your home. If someone broke a leg you tended it with bandages and splints. It was a case of the Good Samaritan in action. You used your hands and heart instead of your pocket book.

Keep It Simple

But generosity is like a muscle. If you don't use it will wither away and die. And modern charity organizations make it so easy to contribute that our generous impulses are in danger of atrophying. In time they may disappear altogether, and man will have lost one of the main character assets that distinguishes him from the animals.

In its early forms, charity consisted of DOING something for someone else. If somebody was hungry you made a pot of soup and gave him some. If an orphan needed aid you took the child into your home. If someone broke a leg you tended it with bandages and splints. It was a case of the Good Samaritan in action. You used your hands and heart instead of your pocket book.

Losing Contact

But in the course of the ages, and particularly in our generation, we've got a long way away from that ideal. The longer scale-on which things have to be done has caused that, I suppose.

Whatever the reason, few of us have any contact with the object of our generosity these days. We give money, and some worker we've never seen uses it to solve the problems of some unfortunate we've never seen. Not only that, but even giving the money has been made so painless that it hardly stirs a flicker of charitable impulse in us.

It's much the same feeling as when you chip in to buy a gift for some fellow employee you've hardly met. Your main concern is not to make him happy but just to keep in line by giving as much as, but not more than, the other fellow.

Nowadays, deductions from your pay cheque can take care of your charitable donations. It's like your income tax: you don't know you're paying it. A businessman can have his secretary look after the whole thing—and perhaps give a whopping good donation too—and never even know he's been generous.

As Our Readers See It

Kind Hearts, Gentle People

Mrs. MacCoy and I have previously been in Victoria for short periods. In '35 I attended the annual convention of my college fraternity, Alpha Delta Phi, at the University of B.C. Chapter in Vancouver.

This last summer we decided to spend several days in Victoria, and so one evening we were going on the late Princess ferry. A young U.S. Navy gob standing next to me on the deck was so anxious to land that I asked him if Victoria was his home. He said "No. I grew up in the States, but my parents are Canadians, and I love to come to Victoria because the people here are the friendliest people in the world."

And I agree, as this story will show. I bought a beautiful sports coat at Dorman's, and when I tendered my check, Mr. Zeal, said to me "there is a young fellow from Los Angeles who is laid up in St. Joseph's Hospital as the result of an auto accident; I gave him first aid, and I go to see him as often as I can. He has no friends here, and would you go to see him?" I assured Mr. Zeal that I would, and I did.

Our visit was devoid of any unpleasant incidents, and we will visit Victoria again.

Honey From Bee Street

Your continuous correspondent from East Sooke, in a recent effusion would deny even the fundamental right of majority rule, to the people of British Columbia and would instead substitute government by a conglomeration of dissident minorities. Guidance to these Four Horsemen, riding off in all directions, would indeed be an Idiot's Delight.

The people of the province, who have so triumphantly vindicated their rights by re-electing the government of their choice and sweeping out most of the debris, owe something to these fussy-minded sages whose ridiculous proposals and assertions receive such prominence in our local press, just as they owe something to the C.B.C. and much of the daily press.

These media of news and propaganda, by their unprecedent vendetta of hate and vilification against a popular and respected government, convinced the people of their unfitness to guide public opinion and showed them the ignoble character of the political leaders and groups who financed and fostered such a shameful and unfair campaign.

Once again let it be said, the people of B.C. are neither knaves nor fools, regardless of how a hostile press seeks to label them. They have just proved it in a conclusive and spectacular manner.

FROM WASHINGTON

The New Generation

AS compared with early August, before the two national conventions, there is something quite different and new in the political situation. Then, it would have been a surprise to find a seasoned correspondent or a professional politician in either party who did not think that Eisenhower was, unless another illness overtook him, unbeatable. Now, there are few who doubt that the election is a contest in which the Democrats stand to make important gains in Congress, and have a fighting chance for the Presidency.

Lippmann

The main cause of this change of mood is, I believe, the increasing evidence that the Democratic Party is unexpectedly strong—that it is in one of its periods of revival, as in the early days of Wilson and again of Roosevelt.

The Democratic victories in the mid-term election of 1934 registered the beginning of that revival. They showed that the Democrats who had voted for Eisenhower in 1952 were still Democrats; they showed also that in the new political generation, which is taking over, the Democrats have by far the best of it.

At the Chicago convention last month, the control of the Democratic party passed, after Truman's rearguard action, into the hands of Stevenson and the new political generation. It is this rejuvenated party which is showing so much buoyancy.

The arrival of the new generation accounts also, I believe, for the subsiding of the great factional quarrels of the post-war years under Truman. The quarrels over civil rights and over labor rights and privileges have died down.

It is not because they have been settled. It is not because they have been smartly evaded. It is because there is a new generation in the North and the South in the corporations and in the labor unions, which does not respond to the old warries.

Talks Their Language

Stevenson, who himself belongs to this new generation, speaks for it. That is why he can go into a Southern state, can take a unequivocal stand on the school problem, and yet not precipitate an irreconcilable quarrel.

The view and unity of the Democratic Party come from the influx of young and vigorous men who have been working in the communities on the problems of the present and the future. They do not know and they do not care about the quarrels between Truman and his enemies.

There is little evidence of a corresponding revival, due to the rise of a new generation, within the Republican Party. That is the real reason, I believe, for the obvious listlessness of the Republican Party.

In his acceptance speech at the San Francisco convention, the President spoke sincerely and eloquently in the hope that he might be the leader of such a revival. He called upon the new generation to form behind him in making over the party. There is no evidence of such a rally.

Heir Apparent

If his hope was being realized, it is evident that the prime exponent of the new Republicanism would be Nixon, who is a young man and Eisenhower's heir apparent. But nobody supposes that Nixon would or could or that he wished to remake the old Republican Party into Eisenhower's new Republican Party.

The Republican Party lacks vigor because the new political generation has not yet obtained control of the party. The party is in the control of men who are not vigorous.

The President's insight here, as in so many elemental issues, was sound when he offered to lead the new generation in the remaking of the party. But the reality of the matter may well be that as he himself does not belong to the new generation, he can advise it, he can inspire it but he cannot lead it.

Alms surely that will have to be done by men who themselves belong to the new generation.

Monday on the Move

I spent last Monday on the move with the Bookmobile in Central Saanich.

I chose that day because every other Monday the Bookmobile goes to four different schools in that area, and this aspect of its work was new to me.

During the past 2½ years, I've learned from experience just what the Bookmobile means to the people in our neighborhood.

It means that grandmother who has no car doesn't have to trudge the weary mile to the nearest bus stop with a heavy load of books.

It means that all the little children of this neighborhood are assured of good reading throughout the year. (They are too young to go to town by themselves. Their mothers, like most country women, are busier than city mothers and find it difficult to take the kids to town.) It means that the mother with the tiny baby can get books within walking distance of asking her busy husband to drive her specifically into town.

Ruth

special book, encouraging the shy children. The job couldn't have been done with a staff of less than three because more than 60 children were looked after in the hour.

"Yes, Eric," I heard Miss Payne say. "I've brought you the other Christopher Robin book you wanted. It's right here waiting for you." And Eric, whose background and world are so vastly different from Christopher Robin's, went off happily hugging another A. A. Milne.

I saw a little girl hunting eagerly for "Heidi." And I found out later that the teacher is reading "Heidi" in the class and the child wanted to be sure that the teacher was reading right!

And now, when I hear talk about integrating the Indian into society, I shall think of what the Bookmobile is doing to help in this important task.

After the Tsartlip School, we went on to the Saanichton Elementary School. The color of the skins was different. But the eagerness was just the same.

And of the 50-odd children who came in by grade for books, I remember best a shy pale child with saucer eyes of blue.

"I've never belonged before," she said, and was quite puffed up with importance by the serious business of filling out an application card.

At Mt. Newton High, the difference in the reading tastes of adolescent boys and girls was quite apparent. In this school, I remember best the boy who said he must have a book on electricity. I've forgotten just what he was making, but he had to have something on electrical circuits, and he had to have it now because his work was all held up. To my relief, and his, Miss Payne found a book. There, I felt, was an eager interested boy whose energies were being directed into useful channels.

I can't condense all—I saw into a single column. I'll have to omit one school. I didn't mention the variety of interests displayed by these country children.

But I came home full of admiration for the work the Bookmobile is doing. It's giving enjoyment, widening horizons, helping people in every age group.

To my mind, it would be a tragedy to curtail this service in any way at all.

VIVE LA BOOKMOBILE!

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

The Dangerous Age

LONDON—The English are always late with the latest—as regards North American song hits, fads and catch phrases. They took a good year to latch onto the Davy Crockett craze.

The word "gimmick" had been in vogue in Canada and the United States for five years before it crept into the language here, pronounced tentatively at first as "jimmuck." Some people are still using the expression "Oh yeah? Sez you!" under the impression that it is still a current North American comeback.

Likewise "rock 'n' roll," which I understand you are thoroughly tired of over there by now, has suddenly burst upon this country.

I first encountered rock 'n' roll on a recent evening when some U.S. neighbors invited my wife and me around for a drink. Present was their 16-year-old daughter.

The evening got to be rather heavy going, in that our host was an apologist for U.S. foreign policy and seemed determined to get us into arguments in which we would support the policies of Eden and friends. I try to avoid getting involved in such discussions because Americans here are for the most part very touchy about their country, and to wind up purple in the face with rage at criticism of the U.S.

So . . . when the daughter's eyes kept straying to a record-player and a stack of records in the corner I gave her the chance to put some on by showing interest in them. As a rough estimate, I would have said that 99.9 per cent of them were rock 'n' roll discs.

She put on a pile of them and not more than a couple of them had been played before her young brother drifted down from his homework upstairs. The girl had been straining at the leash to get dancing and with the entry of her brother they were away!

I stood by fascinated, just as I had been fascinated at seeing for the first time the Charleston, the Black Bottom, the Big Apple and—during a visit to England during the 1930s—the Palais Glide.

Then—in a spirit of research, to keep up with the preoccupations of the younger generation—I asked the girl if I might have a bash at this rock 'n' roll. She was good enough to show me the basic steps. It wasn't long before I got the idea and with jacket and tie off I was entering into some really energetic rock 'n' roll manouevres.

My host, in earnest conversations with my wife, on the significance of some U.S. foreign botchup, glanced up and saw his daughter and me really going to town to Bill Haley and His Comets. "I should warn you, Mrs. Reyburn," he whispered to my wife, "I suppose you know that your husband's at the 'dangerous age'."

Since then teenagers viewing the movie "Rock Around the Clock" have wrecked cinemas at Romford, Burnley, Twickenham, Dagenham, West Ham and Chadwell Heath and have been arrested in batches. Being at the dangerous age, I've been smart enough to stay away and not get involved.

J. Arthur Rank presents GREGORY PECK, A. L. THOMAS, WILLIAM HOLDEN, WHITNEY JANE GRIFFITHS in "THE MAN WITH A MILLION"

Based on the famous story by Mark Twain

Played against the colourful background of the Wild West, this is Peck's first all-British film. As a young penniless American arrives in London, he has to work for One Million Pounds by two wealthy eccentric brothers in order to settle a bet between them. What happens afterwards makes for a highly entertaining and hilarious story. If you ever had the desire to spend a million, you may want to see what happened to a fellow who tried.

MOVIE WORLD

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Look, Ma, no studio! The home do-it-yourself craze has come to swank Beverly Hills, where most people seldom lift a finger except to clip coupons. But it's a slightly supercilious do-it-yourself stunt at that.

Newsmen and officials of the Covent Garden Royal Opera House were waiting vainly in the rain at London airport for the on-again, off-again Bolshoi troupe.

A fellow and his wife are making a full-length feature movie in their three bedrooms, two baths and a den near famous Wilshire Boulevard.

They're not only using their home for the film but everything in it—including new drapes and bedspreads, wifey made for the occasion, and their two sons, four-year-old Jeffrey and six-year-old Josh. Every day costars Mala Powers and Jim Best and a crew of 48 cameramen, assistants, carpenters, prop men and electricians troop into Hollywood's oddest "studio" to resemble a mob scene in a telephone booth.

ART NAPOLEON, 34-year-old former New York TV director, and his wife, Jo, one-time assistant movie scenarist, came up with the let's-do-it-ourselves home movie kit. Veteran producer Lou Lesser is the man with the money behind the Napoleon's suspense story, "Man on a Motorcycle," about a sex maniac who threatens the lives of a housewife and her two children.

Rookies Please Kilburn

Heavy Drills Sideline Two Cougars

NANAIMO — Hockey jockey Colin Kilburn booted the Victoria Cougars into the stretch drive of their pre-season training race today.

Cougars, scheduled to meet Allan Cup champions Vernon Canadians in Nanaimo Thursday night and in Victoria Friday, open their 1956-57 Western Hockey League schedule Monday afternoon at Memorial Arena when they meet Art Chapman's Vancouver Canucks.

Kilburn announced today that he would continue his twice-a-day workouts until Wednesday.

The club will have a light loosening drill Thursday morning before meeting the Vernon club.

The three newest additions to the club, defenseman Nelson Bullock and forwards George Rainieri and Roy Partridge, sent to the Cougars in a three-man bundle from Boston Bruins, arrived in camp Sunday and immediately joined the work-outs.

Kilburn was impressed with the talents of both Rainieri and Partridge. Rainieri, owner of a powerful shot, was used at right wing on a line with Gordy Haworth and Bruce Carmichael while Partridge was teamed with centre Don Chupka and Wayne Brown.

Bullock, a member of last year's Cougar squad, was paired on defense with Bill Davidson to fill in for Bill Dobyns, who is sidelined with tendinitis. Dobyns, likely, will miss Thursday's game.

Another defenseman, Lionel Heinrich, will be out of action until Wednesday as he received a broken nose Sunday when he collided with Partridge.

Sylvester Wins White Memorial

A special racing meet held at Western Speedway Sunday raised a purse of $900 which will be turned over to the widow and family of Roy White, auto racing official who was killed recently in a Malahat road cave-in.

Gerry Sylvester won the Roy White Memorial Trophy in the main event after pulling ahead of Bert Gilmour and Dick Partridge in a nip-and-tuck duel. It was Sylvester's second straight main event victory.

Results: 1. Gerry Sylvester; 2. Dick Partridge; 3. Lamont Brooks.

Big Car Main Event—1. Fred Hayton; 2. Bill Heller; 3. Al Coutts.

Trophy Dash—Stocks: 1. Lamont Brooks; 2. Harry Roberts; 3. Dick Wileman.

Trophy Dash—Big Cars: 1. Bill Heller; 2. Chet Heslop; 3. Ray Pottiger; 4. Hank Neilsen; 5. Lamont Brooks.

Bert Gilmour; 6. Red Burke.

Third Heat—1. Phil Lambrecht; 2. Dick Wileman; 3. Larry Van Humpback.

Lea, Dalziel In Golf Final

Vic Lea and Dale Dalziel will meet in a 36-hole final next Sunday for the Uplands-Golf Club men's championship.

Both won their semifinal matches Sunday. Lea disposing of R. A. Phillips, 6 and 5, and Dalziel defeating John Paynter, 5 and 3.

Illness Stops Irvin, Quits as Hawk Pilot

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (UPI)—James Dickenson (Dick) Irvin, 64, the old "Silver Fox" of professional hockey, has resigned as coach of the Chicago Black Hawks hockey team because of illness.

Only a few days ago Irvin was released from a Montreal hospital and joined the Hawks at their training camp here.

But he felt that it might be injurious to try to carry on, and finally decided to call it quits. His health has been poor for two years.

"This was the toughest decision I ever had to make in all my 27 years of coaching in the National Hockey League," the grey-haired coach said.

General manager Tom Ivan accepted Irvin's resignation. He

ARDEN DRIVE WINS TIMES FEATURE

Going to the front early and leading from wire to wire, Arden Drive scored a three-quarter-length victory over a select field Saturday to win the featured Times Handicap at Sandown Park. Victory group in the paddock included, left to right, jockey Bobby Summers, owner-trainer Stewart Johnston, Fred Smith, Bob Randall, Ascot Jockey Club official, and Mrs. Stuart Keate, wife of Times publisher Stuart Keate. ### DEFEAT ITALY

U.S. Netters Capture Davis Cup Tie

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States Davis Cup team clinched the inter-zone series with Italy Sunday and Vic Seixas and Ham Richardson rallied to beat Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Siroli in doubles, 16, 64, 62.

The victory, following singles triumphs by Richardson and Seixas Saturday, gave the Americans a 3-0 lead in the best-of-five series and made a formality of Monday's two final singles duels.

The Americans qualified to go to Australia, where they will play India, the Eastern zone champions, in mid-December at Perth and, if successful, challenge Australia at Adelaide Dec. 26-28.

On Saturday Richardson had little trouble beating Pietrangeli in straight sets, 63, 62, 63.

The veteran Seixas was extended in the second set but beat off a determined Siroli 63, 11, 9, 64.

GONZALES TAKES TITLE

WEMBLEY, England (AP)—Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, world professional tennis champion, Saturday won an international tournament here by taking a marathon battle from Australia's Frank Sedgman, 44, 11, 9, 9, 9-7.

Gonzales' victory in the two-hour and 35-minute match was his second in a week over the former Wimbledon winner.

Arden Drive Captures Featured Times 'Cap

RONNIE (AND HARVEY) MEET STAMPS TONIGHT

CALGARY (CP)—The famous Ronnie Knox and his equally-famous stepfather, Harvey, will be in Calgary tonight to talk contract terms with officials of the Stampeder football club.

The younger Knox was a member of the Hamilton Ti-Cats until a short time ago when he quit the club in a huff—reportedly at his stepfather's insistence.

Knox, a star quarterback in college ranks, performed creditably with the Hamilton squad and was rated by team president Jake Gaudaur as one of the best players he had ever seen in Canadian football.

A starry signal-caller, Knox is rated a top-notch defensive back as well.

Arden Drive, a six-year-old, light bay gelding took the featured Times Handicap over the six-furlong route on Saturday with a three-quarter length victory over favored Simonworth.

It was the third loss in three races for Simonworth who went to the post each time at the public choice.

Arden Drive led from wire to wire and held off the strong closing bid of Simonworth.

Jockey Bobby Summers was third. Mrs. Stuart Keate, wife of Times publisher Stuart Keate, made the award presentation on behalf of the Times.

INQUIRY POSTED

First inquiry sign of the meet was posted in the fourth race over a mile and 70 yards when Icy Way nipped Flying Abbey by a head in a driving finish.

The stewards disallowed the claim of foul by Summers, who was up on Flying Abbey, against jockey Red Howe on Icy Way.

Little Alfred and Don Ismael returned the best prices of the day, $17.70 and $21.80, in the first and third races respectively.

Sea Lad was the favorite and winner of the second with a five-length victory, and combined with Lavender Bell, returned a $9.90 quinella payoff.

The nine-year-old bay mare Miss' Humbug scored a two-length victory over Speedy Gal in the fifth race; Lord Glenlivet was a triple winner of the meeting with a length victory over Pam Nita in the sixth and Sunday Painter, who had been close only previously, finally hit the winners' circle in the seventh, combining with Batman for a quinella of $29.00.

Saturday's form chart will be found on Page 20.

YANK PITCHERS DRAW ASSIST

Mickey Gets 'Triple'

NEW YORK (UP)—For Mickey Mantle, fourth man in baseball history to win the major league triple crown, the final day of the season was the toughest one of the year.

"Boy, am I glad that's over," Mantle's sigh of relief exploded as he heard the news that Detroit's Al Kaline had fallen two short of tying him for the runs-batted-in championship. "I really wanted that triple crown."

And in the end, the furrows of worry fading from his brow, he got it—to join Rogers Hornsby, Lou Gehrig and Ted Williams as the only men to lead the majors in batting, home runs and R.B.I.s.

Mickey had two of those titles all wrapped up Sunday as the season ended. His 32 home runs and his .353 batting average were unassailable by anybody in the majors.

But, with Kaline only three and a natural, "I'll win it."

Yogi, as it developed, turned out to be quite a prophet. And when the Detroit-Cleveland game ended without Kaline getting any more runs batted in, Mickey's smile took in the whole room.

"I guess that the most satisfying one of the three is winning the batting championship," he said, shrugging a brown sport coat over a checked sport shirt. "That tickles me even more than the home run championship or getting the most R.B.I.'s."

The Yankee pitchers, Mickey allowed, deserved "a big assist" in his being able to beat out Ted Williams.

Statistics showed that Williams, who finished eight points back of Mantle with .345, hit only .196 against Yankee pitching this season with 11 hits for 56 times at bat. And in games at Yankee Stadium, the Boston crasher hit .120 with three for 25.

"I sure would like to have that triple crown," Mantle said over and over, pacing the room.

"Ya still got two so quit worryin'," barked Yogi Berra, sitting in front of his locker.

But, with Kaline only three

SERIES OPENS WEDNESDAY

Maglie, Ford Likely Starters

By JOE REICHLER

BROOKLYN (AP)—Sal (The Barber) Maglie, Brooklyn's Cinderella man, and Whitey Ford, New York's brilliant southpaw ace, were regarded today as almost certain starters for the opening game of the 1956 World Series as the champion Dodgers and Yankees prepared to renew their fall rivalry at Ebbets Field Wednesday.

The Dodgers Sunday earned the right to meet the Yankees for the seventh time in 16 years by capturing the National League pennant on the last day of the season with an 84-triumph over Pittsburgh. The Yankees, who had whipped the Dodgers in all six series clashes until the Brooks turned the tables last year in a seven-game set, had clinched the American League championship Sept. 18.

Odds-makers already were quoting the well-rested Yankees as 7-to-5 favorites to gain revenge on the Dodgers, who had to battle to the limit and overwork their pitching staff to edge out Milwaukee Braves by one game.

A sellout for the game was assured with the balance of the 34,000 tickets gobblled up only a couple of hours after they were put on sale.

Millions more were expected to watch and listen to the games, which will be telecast and broadcast in the U.S.

and Canada.

ONE-GAME LEAD

Not only that, they had to win their last three against

Pittsburgh. The Cards came through, winning two out of three from the Braves. That was all the Brooks needed.

They clubbed the Pirates three-times, including Sunday's 8-6 conquest, for a one-game advantage at the end.

Pittsburgh manager Bob

Bragan made, perhaps, the most illuminating comment on the Dodgers' victory after it was all over.

"Brooklyn won it the hard way," he said. "They deserved to win. Milwaukee had it and gave it up. They didn't deserve the pennant."

The Braves, who finally licked the Cardinals, 42, when it was too late knew it, too.

There will be no cries of "foul"

this time.

The pressure actually was off the Dodgers Sunday because they could do no worse than tie if they lost and Milwaukee won. But the victory didn't come easy. Ace pitcher Don Newcombe couldn't protect a five-run lead and had to be taken out in the eighth inning.

BRAVES BEHIND

Als Rule Big Four; Roughies Rip Leos

By The Canadian Press

The rich got richer and the poor got a licking in the first two games of the Western Interprovincial Football Union's four-game weekend and when the results were posted, daylight showed for the first time this season both teams in first position in the standings.

Saskatchewan Roughriders and Winnipeg Blue Bombers were responsible for removing all ties in the first two games of the weekend.

Roughriders retained second place with two points over Brit-Rough Riders at Ottawa. The Als beat Columbia Lions at Regina. Bombers broke a third-place tie by whipping the last-place Stampeders 37-14 at Calgary to move two points ahead of B.C.

In the mixed-up Big Four, only one thing appears certain. All clubs should finish the season with money in the bank, a most unusual situation.

The scoreboard jottings ensure this. Take Saturday, for instance. Dopesters had it figured that Alouettes would chase Tiger-Cats right out of Hamilton's Civic Stadium playground battle in 1955. The lead changed hands eight times at Hamilton and Patterson's catch turned what could have been a startling upset into a heart-breaking Ticat defeat.

The results straightened out the somewhat slightly-jammed standings. The Als are in front with 12 points, followed by Ottawa with eight and Argonauts and Tiger-Cats are in a third-place deadlock with six each.

Tonight's action in the WIFU is important.

MUST CHANGE

The standings condition, however, can't last, for barring a draw—no matter the outcome of tonight's two contests, at least one spot will be tied.

Riders are at Edmonton against league-leading Eskimos, and a Saskatchewan victory would tie the two clubs for first place.

Lions are at Winnipeg, where B.C. can get back on an even footing with Bombers by winning.

B.C. and Saskatchewan losses will result in a Bomber-Rider second-place stalemate.

With the final deadline for import player changes two weeks away, everybody made additions and deletions Saturday night.

Saskatchewan, with new tackle Willie Lee from Chicago Bears, replacing injured Martin Ruby, scored six converted touchdowns in three quarters before 14,000 Regina fans.

Lions dressed end Bob Hanta from San Francisco 49ers to replace injured Rommie Loud, and tackle Fred Robinson from Cleveland Browns.

Ken Carpenter scored three touchdowns for Saskatchewan, two on 11-and 55-yard passing plays. Larry Isbell scored another touchdown; Alex Bravo raced 98 yards through a gaping hole off tackle for another, and Bobby Marlow's five-yard break over centre brought the other.

Rep. Whitehouse converted all six Saskatchewan touchdowns and two of Isbell's punts went for singles. Gordon Strutridge caught B.C. quarterback Jerry Gustafson-in-Lions' end zone for a fourth-quarter safety touch.

Gustafson's passing accounted for all four B.C. touchdowns. He passed to Ed Verbe in the first quarter, to Dan Edwards in the second, and in the third a 72-yard run-and-pass play to By Bailey and seven yards to Paul Cameron. Centre Ron Baker kicked the four converts.

Georgia Tech, back with virtually the same team that beat Pitt in the last Sugar Bowl, won another squeaker—this one 9-7 over a Southern Methodist squad that had upended Notre Dame in its opener a week ago. Tech had opened its new season defeating Kentucky 14-6.

College Grid Powers Still Rule the Roost

NEW YORK (AP) — Where's that difference a year's supposed to make?

Once again, Oklahoma, Michigan State and Georgia Tech are looking for all the world like the powers-to-stay in U.S. college football.

Bud Wilkinson's "poor Ill Sooners" from Norman, Okla., have played only one game but they've demonstrated enough in that appearance to indicate it will take some doing to dislodge them from the No. 1 national ranking they drew in the Associated Press poll last year and in the pre-season and first, weekly balloting this semester.

Michigan State, the Rose Bowl champion and favorite in the Big 10, has made a tidy debut by merely taking the scalp of the Stanford Indians, considered the best in the Pacific Coast Conference.

GEORGIA LOOKS SHARP

As for Georgia Tech and its experienced crew, there is even less change from a year ago. The engineers have been out twice and twice home a winner 14-6.

SOUVENIR HUNTERS BEWARE

Converts in Reverse --- To Save Footballs

HAMILTON (CP) — Football souvenir hunters, who last week made off with almost $300 worth of Tiger-Cat footballs after converts, this week will have to fight more than a lone policeman if they want to snare one of the $25 balls.

Seymour Wilson, Big Four referee-in-chief, said today that new legislation in force next Saturday will enable convert kickers to boot the ball from the end zone back into the field of play.

Wilson, who proposed the legislation, said that during Saturday, in tight games, the winning Tech

Wilkinson, who said he would be happy with a one-point victory over North Carolina in Oklahoma's opener, got a 35-point bonus from his kids. The 35-0 romp was the Sooners' 31st straight victory, tying their own U.S. college record set in 1948-49. One more sets a mark and it ought to come Saturday against Kansas State.

Michigan State had a more difficult time but broke loose in a 7-7 halftime score to whip Stanford 21-7. The Big 10 title could be on the line as soon as next Saturday when the Spartans meet arch-rival Michigan, a 42-13 winner over penalty-weakened UCLA.

Georgia Tech, back with virtually the same team that beat Pitt in the last Sugar Bowl, won another squeaker—this one 9-7 over a Southern Methodist squad that had upended Notre Dame in its opener a week ago. Tech had opened its new season defeating Kentucky 14-6.

Fishboat, Plane Save Sick Youth

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP)—
Fliers and fishermen combined efforts Sunday to pick up a lighthouse keeper's 11-year-old son from a lonely island where he was suffering from acute appendicitis.

The Russian trade delegation that negotiated with the Canadian government early this year to complete the deal for purchases of Canadian wheat indicated to newsmen that they would be interested in establishing a Russian trade office at Winnipeg.

Ostensibly the Russian trade officers in the commercial office in Winnipeg would be in a position to deal directly with grain traders and the Wheat Board.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police and other government authorities concerned with keeping tab on espionage activities of the Russians were concerned that such a commercial office might become a centre for Accordingly the Russians were discouraged.

BURNED TO DEATH

VANCOUVER—J. G. Jamieson, 45, was found burned to death in his home here Sunday morning. Police said he apparently fell asleep while smoking and the cigarette set fire to a chessboard.

PLAQUE FOR BCE HEAD

VANCOUVER—A. E. (Dale) Grauer, B.C. Electric president, will receive the B'Nai Brith goodwill plaque here Tuesday in recognition of his support of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews. The presentation will be made at the society's annual goodwill dinner.

SMASH, GRAB THIEF

VANCOUVER—Police believe a smash and grab thief suffered severely cut hands when he took several expensive watches from a jewelry store display window here Sunday night.

They found a hole slightly larger than a man's fist in the heavy plate glass window and a trail of blood stains leading away from the store.

UNIONS WILL BALLOT

KELOWNA—Prolonged rivalry between two packinghouse unions may soon be settled. Labor Minister Lyle Wicks announced Saturday he has ordered a referendum vote in the

Okanagan Valley to decide whether the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union should amalgamate with local 48 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. Only those on the seniority list, about 2,800, will be entitled to cast a ballot.

MAN ESCAPES GAS FUMES

VANCOUVER—An elderly
Vancouver man who staggered three blocks to a fire hall after he had been partially overcome by gas, was released from hospital Sunday night. Henry Payne, 72, was taken to hospital after he fled his gas-filled room and received emergency treatment at the fire hall.

The mystery of the Signal Hill rattlesnake was cleared up today
—thanks to a "souvenir" hunting sailor from HMCS Sussexville.

AB Arthur Lebrun, 21, Courtenay, phoned the Times to report
he left the three-and-one-half-foot rattler (dead) on the Signal Hill navy parking lot for early last week.

Lebrun said he was in Penticton on the weekend of Sept. 23 with AB Robert Bazley, also of the Saskatchewan.

A friend of Bazley shot the snake at Okanagan Falls, near Penticton, and gave it to Lebrun.

NO TIME
Lebrun brought it home in the back of a car, intending to have it skinned and keep the skin as a souvenir.

But Lebrun's ship was heading out to manoeuvres and there was no time to get the rattler to a taxidermist.

The sailor dumped the snake on the parking lot and took off for sea.

The mystery developed when another sailor found the snake and called experts to identify it. They said it was definitely a rattler, but that there are no venomous snakes on the Island.

today. "I hope nobody was put to

... And a Little Child Led 100 to Christ at Victoria Evangelistic Mission

By DINAH KERR
Times Church Editor

Struck by the powerful message of evangelist Tom Rees, at least 100 persons committed their lives to Christ at Memorial Arena Sunday night.

The final rally of the week-long Inter-Church Evangelistic Mission drew another 6,500 to the arena.

Five times the number who stood at the opening rally eight days ago answered Rees' call for "living sacrifice" to Jesus Christ.

Among them was a little girl, about six years old. When her mother tugged frantically at her coat, she turned and said in a loud whisper: "Why don't you stand up too?" She stood resolutely through the singing of the final hymn.

"This has been a week of great blessing to the people of this city," said mission co-chairman Dr. F. E. H. James. "Mr. Rees is a man specially gifted by God to create in the minds of people a spiritual crisis."

"Great good has been accomplished. Christian leaders and the churches have been brought closer together in cooperation and a great many people have returned to God."

Rees will conduct another mission in the Alberni Valley, Oct. 10 to 21, before returning to England.

"I have enjoyed every moment of my stay here the evangelist said. "I've made some wonderful friends. I never thought that among those who are my personal friends would be a real live archbishop. But there is and I don't think His Grace (Archbishop Harold E. Sexton) would mind me saying so."

Before giving his address, Rees led the congregation in a hymn, not on the hymn sheet. Everyone joined in fervently. The four-line hymn "Turn Your Eyes Upon Jesus" had become the theme song of the mission. It has been sung at least twice at every meeting held in the past eight days.

Text of his final talk here was the question asked by Pontius Pilate before the crucifixion, "What shall I do then with Jesus which is called the Christ?"

"This is undoubtedly the most important question ever asked," he said. "It is important because it concerns an important person."

"Jesus Christ caused no small stir in Jerusalem when he said he had power on earth to forgive sins."

"He did not claim to be a son of God nor the son of God, but God the son."

"Jesus Christ made tremendous claims but he lived a holy life and although His Claims are hard to accept, we accept them because of the life He led."

"I challenge you to find anything in the whole field of literature that would match the words of Christ."

"I challenge you to go through the Gospels and underline everything He said and then tell me 'These are the words of an ignorant carpenter from Nazareth'."

"No, my friends," he said. "The character, conduct and conversation of Jesus Christ bears the clear stamp of Deity. 'God's raising of Christ from the dead is our assurance that Jesus of Nazareth is worthy of our worship and confidence."

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man should lay down his life for his friends. Yet even while we were sinners, enemies of God, Christ died for us."

"Now here is the question again my friends. I challenge you to face it."

"What shall I do then with Jesus which is called the Christ?"

"I don't know what your answer is. I know what mine is. I will trust him as my Saviour, who died for me. I shall worship him as my God, He who rose from the dead."

"Your finding a place with God depends entirely upon your personal answer to the question."

"Let a man or woman here tonight; in spite of all morality, sincerity and good works, reject Christ and cry 'Crucify him' and that man will be rejected by God."

"The question cannot be evaded," he warned. "Many have postponed the acceptance of Christ and God's spirit has ceased to struggle with them."

"They have become hardened and His message no longer stirs their hearts."

"Tonight is your opportunity. Whether you like it or dislike it intensely there comes the haunting question which baffled Pilate."

Rees asked the congregation to leave quietly—"no chattering please"—so that the question "may continue to ring in your ears." Benediction was pronounced by Archbishop Sexton.

BETWEEN TIMES

By
MONTE ROBERTS

There was a great deal of whoop-de-do over the weekend due to an alleged error in this space Saturday.

On Saturday, in the course of dispensing sagacious advice and pertinent information aent the change-back to Standard Time, I referred to Sunday, as (and I quote) "Sept. 29."

Thus, only moments after the Times reached the hands of avid readers, the telephone started jumping off the hook.

The first caller, Andy Stephen, said my curt, concise, clear and complete analysis of Standard Time had left him so confused he did not even know what day it was.

(This is nothing unusual for Andy, who rarely knows what time it is.)

Andy, I will admit, was reasonably tolerant in his objections to my reference to Sunday as Sept. 29.

Subsequent callers were completely intolerant, uniformly indignant, and mostly asked me what was I doing? Trying to refute the theory of relativity? Was I a communist, or something? Had I stopped beating my wife?

To these and all other queries, I could only reply patiently: when I said Sunday would be Sept. 29, I did not say in which YEAR Sunday would be Sept. 29.

I explained that Sept. 29 had been Sunday in 1850, for instance, and would be Sunday in 1957.

Sept. 29 was on a Sunday in 1889 and 1895, I said, not to mention 1880, which was a leap year, and Sept. 29 (all things being equal) would be a Sunday in 1963, 1968, and 1974. Not to mention 1985 and 1991.

In fact, I told my carpenter callers (those few who stayed on the line long enough to listen) Sept. 29 was on Sunday in a total of 15 years between 1850 and 1946, and would be on Sunday 21 times more between now and 2097.

Beyond 2097, I told my callers, I would hesitate to hazard a prediction, for I don't expect to live much longer than 2097, or 2098 at the very best.

But it must be clear to one and all that, when I referred to Sunday, Sept. 29, in this space, I had at least 36 chances of being right.

What other columnist can make that statement?

Five Years' World Travel To End at Starting Point

OTTAWA (CP) — Gwen Peck's footstep trail around the world. But she says they will end back where they began—in Australia.

In a couple of years, her travels will end in "the place I like best," she told a reporter.

She has covered many miles in the 11 years of her journalistic career. She now works for the women's news service of the North American News paper Alliance, with headquarters in New York.

cooked with prunes and apple chunks. Accompany them with baked large dry limas.

Wedding Guests

Out-of-town guests at the Topping-Callander wedding Saturday evening in St. Aidan's Church included Mrs. J. Titchener, Miss Darlene Titchener, and Mr. William Topping, St. Thomas, Ont., and Miss Edna Gait, North Vancouver.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Barbara Helen Pettit, aged 11, Houston, Texas, for her question:

Why Do Animals Hibernate?

This question comes up in the fall when many animals are getting ready for their long winter sleep. Most people think that these creatures doze away the winter only to escape the cold weather. There is evidence to show that this may be just one of several reasons. Most hibernating animals depend a great deal upon insects for food. Frogs feed on insects and snakes feed on the frogs that feed on the insects. And insects, as everyone knows, are plentiful in the summer and scarce in the winter. It may well be that shortage of winter food is the main reason why certain animals go into hibernation.

These animals need water or moist air conditions to make them comfortable. When streams dry up, crocodiles and alligators dig themselves into the mud and fall asleep. Certain frogs of Australia do the same thing. They have found a foot down in dry caked mud. Each was fast asleep in a hole lined with moist slime.

Andy sends a Hammond Ambassador, World Atlas, to John Angus, age 13, 584 Burnside Road, Victoria, B.C., for his question.

How did Peary know when he reached the North Pole?

There was, of course, no wooden pole sticking into the frozen ice field to mark the spot. If there had been, things would have been easier for Captain Robert Edwin Peary. The poles mark the two ends of the earth's axis, that imaginary line straight through the middle around which it spins. Peary's job was to prove he had reached the exact spot at the northern end of the earth's axis — the North Pole.

Strange to say, the most reliable tests are not taken on the ground but in the sky. At the poles, the sun and stars do not swing over the sky from east to west. They travel around the skies in parallel circles. Captain Peary took 32 tests that proved he was standing at the exact North Pole.

This spot was reached by Peary on April 6, 1906. When the great explorer was satisfied that he had arrived, he did what any sensible person would have done. He drove a pole into the frozen ice and hoisted his country's flag—the Stars and Stripes. The world did not hear of this until his return in September. Later, the discoverer of the North Pole was honored as Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary.

Mystery Crimea Talks Mending Soviet Split

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet leaders brought Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito and Hungary's Erno Gero face-to-face today in Yalta in an apparent effort to make them end their long standing feud.

Moscow radio announced that Gero and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin had joined Tito, Soviet Communist Party Leader Nikita S. Khrushchev and Security Chief Gen. Ivan Serov in the mysterious Communist goings-on in the Crimea.

The Moscow broadcast made it sound like a pleasant summer outing with a party of 20 or so high Communists and their wives strolling along the beach and sitting down to a luxurious meal. But there were growing indications the meeting was brought on by a major schism in the Communist party.

TITO APPEASED

Tito has become more friendly in recent months with most of the Communist satellites. But he has remained cool to Hungary and Albania, his neighbors who were second only to Russia in attacking him when he broke with Joseph Stalin.

The Communists earlier "appeased" Tito by ousting his arch-enemy, Matyas Rakosi, as head of the Communist party in Hungary and replacing him with Gero. But Tito has never indicated any great fondness for Gero, who has made little radical changes in Hungarian policy.

Rakosi was dismissed for being too strong a Stalin man—for following too closely the "cult of the individual." Many observers consider Gero equally as pro-Stalin and say that is why Hungarian-Yugoslav relations have not improved.

Even when Gero first came to power there were widespread predictions he would not last because of the new Kremlin line of downgrading Stalin. Speculation was renewed today that Gero might be on his way out as a price of Communist unity in the Balkans.

LEADERS PRESENT

Moscow Radio's list of other Communist leaders in the Crimea "for a walk along the seashore" included Katerina Furtsava, first woman elected to the Supreme Soviet and a close friend of Khrushchev; L. I. Brezhnev, secretary of the Soviet Communist Party central committee; Marshal Andrei Grekov, commander of the Kiev military district, and the Soviet ambassador to Yugoslavia.

Gero's dramatic appearance on the scene meant only one thing, observers said. The Communists are pressing Tito to patch up the quarrel with Hungary that dates back to the 1948 break with Stalin and continues severe.

AS USERS' GROUP FORMED

Labor Party Blasts Eden's Suez Policy

BLACKPOOL, Eng. (Reuters)—The Labor party, today passed an emergency resolution condemning Prime Minister Eden's government for "lamentable handling of the Suez crisis."

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd today formally declared the Suez Canal Users Association (SCUA) inaugurated after 15 countries announced their decision to join it.

Lloyd was presiding over a conference of the 18 countries which have pronounced themselves in favor of international control of the Suez Canal, nationalized by Egypt July 26.

Three countries—Japan, Ethiopia and Pakistan—have not yet decided whether to become members of SCUA. Their delegates nevertheless attended today's opening session and Lloyd invited them to continue participating as observers until their governments have finally made up their minds about membership.

EXPERTS TO REPORT

The 18 envoys are not expected to meet in plenary session again at least until Wednesday.

IS STALINISM BEING REVIVED IN RUSSIA?

That is the top question in the minds of Western diplomats in view of the current conference in Yalta between Soviet chiefs Bulganin and Khrushchev and Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia and Hungary's Erno Gero. This possibility, with all its ramifications for the West, was foreseen two months ago by Canadian External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson. Tito, right, and Khrushchev, left, escort Mrs. Tito on departure from Belgrade for Crimea by air.

Red Feather Total Close to $20,000

A total of $19,643 was collected for Greater Victoria Community Chest by noon today.

COMMUNITY CHEST THERMOMETER

The total represents receipts by advance canvassers and first returns from 1,000 men and women canvassers who set out this morning to call on business, industry and staffs of public buildings.

The figure is almost 9 percent of the $220,000 target figure sought by the end of October.

Officials said the first announced total indicates response is about the same as was noted on the first day of the 1955 campaign.

ENCOURAGING

"While early returns are encouraging," said campaign chairman Harry Gladwell, "we will need support of every citizen this year to raise the additional 10 per cent required to enable the 19 Red Feather services to carry on their essential health and welfare activities in sight."

The annual residential canvass, which will swell the number of volunteer canvassers to 2,000, starts Oct. 16.

The campaign got under way Sunday night with a canvassers' rally at the Odeon Theatre.

More than 1,000 persons attended the rally to hear pep talks by Community Chest president R. B. Wilson, campaign manager Gladwell and Times publisher Stuart Keate, who was featured speaker. A parade of flags and shields, bearing the names of the member agencies, was carried out by Victoria Girls' Drill Team. Later the audience was treated to a preview of a new movie.

Community Chest flags, a red feather on a white background, will be displayed for the duration of the drive at city hall, the B.C. Electric building and Eaton's department store.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Grant us, O Lord, this day so to will and think and feel and do that at its end we may be found stronger in faith and hope and love and more nearly like unto our Lord and Master, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Traffic Crashes, Fire Kill Seven in Province

By The Canadian Press

Seven persons died violently in accidents in British Columbia during the weekend, six in traffic smashes and one by fire.

Gwilwyn Phillips, 51, was killed Sunday night when the car he was driving went over a bank near Lytton. His wife, a passenger, suffered slight injuries.

Heaviest traffic toll was taken Sunday night five miles west of Fernie where three Kimberley men died after their car sped out of control along a roadside ditch and crashed into a pile of rocks.

Dead are Chris Leslie Sorenson, 43, Benham Clarence Hubbard and J. S. Schwenneker. A fourth man, whose name was not released, was critically injured in the smashup. They were returning to Kimberley from Calgary, where they had attended a football game Saturday night.

Two other persons were injured in the crash.

Earlier Sunday, J. G. Jamie son, 45, was burned to death in

FATHER BURNS TOT TO DEATH—BY MISTAKE

COPENHAGEN (AP)—A horrified Danish father stirred the embers of a bonfire on his farm and discovered that he had burned his two-year-old son to death. Police believe the boy was hiding in the sticks the father, Detlef Keller, was about to burn, and was overcome by smoke when the fire was lit.

Waitresses Admit Part In Grave Orgy

ALBERNI (Special)—Two teenaged waitresses, involved in the grave desecration case here, today pleaded guilty before Magistrate Thomas Patterson.

Pleading guilty to offering indignity to a human body were Alma Doreen Lockner, 19, and Jean Gibson, 17.

The girls and their companions, David Windsor Ferguson, 19, and William Nelson, 18, will be held in Oakalla Prison on the mainland before the case is tried in Alberni. Tentative trial date is October 6.

Numerous friends and relatives of the two boys appeared at the police station this morning as the foursome was leaving for the mainland jail. Several heckled reporters, calling them ". . . a bunch of vultures."

The two girls and Nelson have now pleaded guilty while Ferguson has reserved his plea.

A week ago Sunday a male corpse was unearthed in Alberni's Greenwood Cemetery, and dragged to the surface of the ground by a logging chain attached to one ankle. Grave headstones were also thrown around in a midnight orgy.

AILING CHILD DIES WHEN B.C. PLANE LOST

VANCOUVER (CP)—A baby suffering from spinal meningitis died early today when the small plane in which it was being flown to Vancouver was lost for about 18 hours in interior British Columbia.

The pilot and a nurse were rescued by an RCAF Canoe which found the single-engined Piper Pacer at Necho Lake, about 100 miles southwest of Prince George. No names were available.

The plane took off from Burns Lake, 125 miles west of Prince George, with the sick infant Sunday morning but failed to arrive at a refueling point on schedule. The RCAF Canoe was called in to search for the Piper after it completed an unsuccessful hunt for two flying prospectors, Bert Goodridge and Bert Lloyd, lost last week northeast of Prince George.

Each of the dogs picked up a trail. They met, when they ducked into brush Saturday. They called for two of the German shepherd dogs the police department here has.

The thief got away.

Dodgers Sure Can Beat Their Jinx

By LEO H. PETERSEN

NEW YORK (UP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers who did it the hard way all season, vowed today to smash the National League's two longest world series jinxes by making it two in a row over the New York Yankees.

Weary but determined after their spine-tingling, final-day triumph in one of the most nerve-wracking pennant-races of all time, the battling Brooklyn found themselves in a familiar position. The odds-makers are saying they can't do it and have installed the Yankees as 7.5 "man-to-man" choices to win their sixth world championship in seven tries under Casey Stengel.

The odds-makers also listed the Yankees as 6-5 choices to win the opening game at Ebbets Field Wednesday on the assumption that Whitey Ford will pitch for them against Sal Maglie, the Dodgers' 39-year-old no-hitter comeback veteran.

But the Dodgers grew accus-

U.K.'s A-Bomb Jet Crashes at London

'Vulcan' Explodes On Landing

LONDON (CP)—A giant jet Vulcan bomber missed the runway at mist-shrouded London Airport today and crashed in flames before a distinguished crowd waiting to welcome the pride of the RAF home from a triumphant flight to Australia and back.

Four of the crew of six died as the massive "Mighty Bat" roared out of the driving rain and suddenly plunged into the ground while being "talked in" because of bad visibility.

The remaining two aboard—Britain's bomber chief, Air Marshal Sir Harry Broadhurst, and the pilot, Sqdn. Ldr. Donald Howard—made miraculous last-second escapes as their ejector seats hurtled them through the cabin roof. They suffered minor bruises.

TOO EARLY

After an on-the-spot investigation, a spokesman for the Hawker Siddeley group and A. V. Roe, makers of the four-jet 61-year-old Saskatchewan, said the undercarriage were found in a plowed field several hundred yards from the runway outside the airport fence. This, the spokesman said, indicated the aircraft "touched down in advance of the concrete runway and the undercarriage was ripped off."

Broadhurst, 50, was acting as co-pilot to Howard on this proving flight of one of the world's mightiest war planes. He injured his foot on the concrete runway and was taken to an RAF hospital in nearby Uxbridge.

ON TERMINAL

Howard, 33, landed on the rain-soaked grass and staggered with a wrench in his back and bruised face to the airport terminal where he cordially embraced his wife.

One of the four killed was a civilian official, Frederick Bassett, a technical service representative for A. V. Roe.

The others killed, all RAF crew members, were Sqdn. Ldr. Edward Eames, navigator, Sqdn. Ldr. James Stroud, second navigator, and Sqdn. Ldr. Albert Gambia, air electronics officer.

The Vulcan, powered by four Bristol Olympus jet engines, left Boscombe Down, England, Sept. 9 and flew to Melbourne, Australia with only two stops—Aden and Singapore.

It took Broadhurst as guest of the Australian government for air force commemoration week.

The plane took seven hours, 18 minutes on its ill-fated flight here from Aden—an average of nearly 500 miles an hour.

EXPLOSIONS HEARD

As it appeared through the mist over the London airport a small explosion was heard and smoke billowed from the plane.

France, West Germany Settle Saar Problem

BONN (Reuters) — France and West Germany today stood on the threshold of a new era of friendship with a centuries-old dispute—the industrial Saar territory—apparently settled.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French Premier Guy Mollet Saturday night reached agreement to return the Saar to West Germany by next Jan. 1. All the territory's economic ties to France would be cut by 1960.

Agreement on the Saar opens the way for realization of the 80-year-old chancellor's dream—a confederation of European states.

1,000,000 Germans Regained

Under the agreement West Germany will gain almost 3,000,000 former citizens who voted 2 to 1 last October to dissolve the 10-year Franco-Saar Economic Union, awarded to France after the Second World War in lieu of war reparations from Germany.

In return West Germany will pay France an undisclosed lump sum as compensation for French francs issued in the Saar. The French are believed to have demanded a 500,000,000-mark about $120,000,000 settlement.

France will also be entitled to dig 20,000,000 tons of coal during the next five years in the Waudt mine field. After that France retains the right to exploit a limited area of the Waudt, ensuring a yield of 46,000,000 tons for 20 years. In

Thugs Bind RCMP Officer

ITUNA, Sask. (CP) — RCMP have placed roadblocks throughout the province to stop two men described as "armed and dangerous" who Sunday handcuffed a policeman to his car and escaped after shooting out the cruiser's tire and smashing the short wave radio.

The two men, driving a light green sedan with Montana licence plates, were stopped by the policeman at a roadblock here 140 miles southeast of Saskatoon, set up after an attempted safe-blowing early Sunday at nearby Wishart.

When the policeman approached the car one man pointed a revolver at his head while the other stuck a pistol in his back.

They handcuffed the RCMP constable to his car and drove away after shooting out a tire and smashing the radio.

RCMP declined to release the name of the officer involved. He freed himself by reaching for the handcuff keys and walked two miles to a farmhouse for aid.

PICTURES ABOUT

No portraits were carried in the parade but there was a huge one of Mao under the reviewing balcony and others of Stalin, Lenin, Marx, Engels and Sun Yat Sen erected in the square.

All China's leaders were present and with them were some of the world's leading Communists who attended the recent Communist party congress here.

In the march past, goose-stepping contingents were followed by squadrons of tanks, self-propelled guns, artillery and radar-controlled searchlights.

A contingent of paratroopers rode past in Chinese-built trucks.

Judges were Constable Ray James, RCMP Nanaimo detachment; Jack Parker of the senior high school and G. F. Halkett, John Shaw High School.

On display were lamp shades, tea trays and other handicrafts, purchased from "honor" money which can total 60¢ weekly.

Franco Celebrates 20 Years as Dictator

MADRID (UP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco celebrated today the 20th anniversary of his nomination as Spanish chief of state. There were indications he soon would announce basic changes in the Spanish government.

Within the next few days he is expected to announce how the monarchy will fit into the new picture. But observers here gave little credence to reports he will hand over his title of chief of state and chief of the armed forces to a king.

Wife of Former King Has Baby Daughter

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — Princess Liliane de Rethy, wife of ex-King Leopold of Belgium, gave birth to a daughter Sunday night.

It was the third child of her marriage to the former king.

The newborn child was given the names of Princess Maria-Esméralda Adelaide Lilian Anne Leopoldine.

The reigning monarch is King Baudouin, 28, eldest son of King Leopold by his first marriage to Swedish-born Queen Astrid, who died in an automobile accident in 1955.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — British authorities lifted a severe curfew on Niclosia's Greek quarter for two hours today to enable residents to obtain food and water.

Monday on the Move

I spent last Monday on the move with the Bookmobile in Central Saanich.

I chose that day because every other Monday the Bookmobile goes to four different schools in that area, and this aspect of its work was new to me.

During the past 2½ years, I've learned from experience just what the Bookmobile means to the people in our neighborhood.

It means that grandmother who has no car doesn't have to trudge the weary mile to the nearest bus stop with a heavy load of books.

It means that all the little children of this neighborhood are assured of good reading throughout the year. (They are too young to go to town by themselves. Their mothers, like most country women, are busier than city mothers and find it difficult to take the kids to town.) It means that the mother with the tiny baby can get books within walking distance instead of asking her busy husband to drive her specially into town.

Ruth

It means, in fact, that all of us are reading better books and more of them than we ever did before. Every other Friday we interrupt our work for perhaps half an hour and rush down to the Bookmobile. We don't have to change out of our working clothes. We go just as we are, and get our books and recommend different ones to each other. It's a neighborhood event that draws us together and stimulates our minds.

The day I spent going to the schools gave me yet another slant on the work done by the Bookmobile.

We went first to the Tsartlip School near Brentwood.

It was fascinating to watch all those Indian children coming into the Bookmobile. They took 94 books between them. They were so polite, so quiet, so good, lining up in single file.

The driver, Mr. Raffard, took their "returned" books as they came in. Miss Shepherd, sitting by the exit door, stamped their cards as they went out with their new batch of reading.

Miss Payne was in the centre of the van, answering questions, advising, finding a

LONDON LETTER

The Dangerous Age

LONDON—The English are always late with the latest—as regards North American song hits, fads and catch phrases. They took a good year to latch onto the Davy Crockett craze.

The word "gimmick" had been in vogue in Canada and the United States for five years before it crept into the language here, pronounced tentatively at first as "jimmuck." Some people are still using the expression "Oh yeah? Sez you!" under the impression that it is still a current North American comeback.

Likewise "rock 'n' roll," which I understand you are thoroughly tired of over there by now, has suddenly burst forth upon this country.

Reyburn

I first encountered rock 'n' roll on a recent evening when some U.S. neighbors invited my wife and me around for a drink. Present was their 16-year-old daughter.

The evening got to be rather heavy going, in that our host was an apologist for U.S. foreign policy and seemed determined to get us into arguments in which we would support the policies of Eden and friends. I try to avoid getting involved in such discussions because Americans here are for the most part very touchy about their country and liable to wind up purple in the face with rage at criticism of the U.S.

So . . . when the daughter's eyes kept straying to a record-player and a stack of records in the corner I gave her the chance to put some on by showing interest in them. As a rough estimate, I would have said that 99 per cent of them were "rock 'n' roll" discs.

She put on a pile of them and not more than a couple of them had been played before her young brother drifted down from doing his homework upstairs. The girl had been straining at the leash to get dancing and with the entry of her brother they were away:

I stood by fascinated, just as I had been fascinated at seeing for the first time the Charleston, the Black Bottom, the Big Apple and—during a visit to England during the 1930s—the Palais Glide.

Then—in a spirit of research, to keep up with the preoccupations of the younger generation—I asked the girl if I might have a bash at this rock 'n' roll. She was good enough to show me the basic steps. It wasn't long before I got the idea and with jacket and tie off I was entering into some really energetic rock 'n' roll manoeuvres.

My host, in earnest conversations with my wife on the significance of some U.S. foreign botchup, glanced up and saw his daughter and me really going to town to Bill Haley and His Comets. "I should warn you, Mrs. Reyburn," he whispered to my wife. "I suppose you know that your husband's at the 'dangerous age'."

Since then teenagers viewing the movie "Rock Around the Clock" have wrecked cinemas at Romford, Burnley, Twickenham, Dagenham, West Ham and Chadwell Heath and have been arrested in batches. Being at the dangerous age, I've been smart enough to stay away and not get involved.

Als Rule Big Four; Roughies Rip Leos

By The Canadian Press

The rich got richer and the poor got a licking in the first two games of the Western Interprovincial Football Union's four-game weekend and when the results were posted, daylight showed, for the first time this season between each position in the standings.

Saskatchewan Roughriders and Winnipeg Blue Bombers were responsible for removing all ties in the standings.

Roughriders retained second place by two points with a 46-28 victory Saturday night over British Columbia Lions at Regina. Bombers broke a third-place tie by whipping the last-place Stampeders 37-14 at Calgary to move

FINANCIAL SUCCESS

two points ahead of B.C.

In the mixed-up Big Four, only one thing appears certain. All clubs should finish the season with money in the bank, a most unusual situation.

The scoreboard jottings ensure this Saturday, for instance. Dopesters had it figured that Alouettes would chase Tiger-Cats right out of Hamilton's Civic Stadium and Toronto Argonauts would slap down those saucy Rough Riders at Ottawa. The Als needed a late-game sensational touchdown pass catch by Hal Patterson to get out of the premises with a 44-43 decision and Riders outplayed Argos to smear the once-proud Toronto club 43-22.

RECORD CROWD

An all-time record crowd of 18,791 at Ottawa saw the surging Riders win their third straight victory and 18,620 witnessed the Civic Stadium battle, certainly the most spine-tingling Big Four game since the Toronto-Montreal playoff battle in 1955. The lead changed hands eight times at Hamilton and Patterson's catch turned what could have been a startling upset into a heart-breaking Ticat defeat.

The results straightened out the somewhat slightly-jammed standings. The Als are in front with 12 points, followed by Ottawa with eight and Argonauts and Tiger-Cats are in a third-place deadlock with six each.

Tonight's action in the WIFU is important.

MUST CHANGE

The standings condition, however, can't last, for barring a draw—no matter the outcome of tonight's two contests, at least one spot will be tied.

Riders are at Edmonton against league-leading Eskimos, and a Saskatchewan victory would tie the two clubs for first place. Lions are at Winnipeg, where B.C. can get back on an even footing with Bombers by winning.

B.C. and Saskatchewan losses would result in a Bomber-Broncos second-place stalemate.

With the final deadline for import player changes two weeks away, everybody made additions and deletions Saturday night.

Saskatchewan, with new tackle Willie Lee from Chicago Bears, replacing injured Martin Ruby, scored six converted touchdowns in three quarters before 14,000 Regina fans.

Lions dressed and Bob Hanita from San Francisco 49ers to replace injured Rommie Loud, and tackle Fred Robinson from Cleveland Browns.

Karpert scored three touchdowns for Saskatchewan, two on 11 and 55-yard passing plays. Larry Isbell scored another touchdown; Alex Bravo raced 98 yards through a gaping hole off tackle for another, and Bobby Marlow's five-yard drive over centre brought the other.

Rep. Whitehouse converted all six Saskatchewan touchdowns and two of Isbell's punts went for singles. Gordon Sturridge caught B.C. quarterback Jerry Gustafson in Lions' end zone for a fourth-quarter touch.

Gustafson's passing accounted for all four B.C. touchdowns. He passed to Ed Vereb in the first quarter; to Dan Edwards in the second; and in the third a 72-yard run-and-pass play to By Bailey and seven yards to Paul Cameron. Centre Ron Baker kicked the four converts.

At Calgary, three player switches and a new head coach couldn't get Stampeders back on a winning plane.

Buddy Leake picked up two touchdowns for Winnipeg, a field goal and four converts for 19 points. Eagle Day scored one touchdown on a 10-yard end sweep and passed 22 yards to Leake and three yards to Bud Grant for two others. Tom Miner kicked two field goals.

Quarterback Don Klosterman threw two long forwards to a pair of newcomers for Calgary's scoring. Dean Lenro, from Baltimore Colts, and Jack Gotts, from Cleveland Browns, gathered them in and romped 45 and 35 yards to score. Klosterman converted both.

Venture got away to a 31-13

in tight games, the kind Tech has specialized in winning.

Wilkinson, who said he would be happy with a one-point victory over North Carolina in Oklahoma's opener, got a 35-point bonus from his kids. The 310-romp was the Sooners' 31st straight victory, tying their own U.S. collegiate record set in 1948-49-50. One more sets a mark and it ought to come Saturday against Kansas State.

Michigan State had a more difficult time but broke loose from a 7-7 halftime score to whip Stanford 21-7. The Big 10 title could be on the line as soon as next Saturday when the Spartans meet arch-rival Michigan, a 42-13 winner over penalty-weakened UCLA.

Georgia Tech, back with virtually the same team that beat Pitt in the last Sugar Bowl, won another squeaker—this one 9-7 over a Southern Methodist squad that had upended Notre Dame in its opener a week ago. Tech had opened its new season defeating Kentucky 14-6.

College Grid Powers Still Rule the Roost

NEW YORK (AP) — Where's that difference a year's supposed to make?

Once again, Oklahoma, Michigan State and Georgia Tech are looking for all the world like the powers-to-stay in U.S. college football.

Bud Wilkinson's "poor 'll Sooners" from Norman, Okla., have played only one game but they've demonstrated enough in that appearance to indicate it will take some doing to dislodge them from the No. 1 national ranking they drew in the Associated Press poll last year and in the pre-season and first weekly balloting this semester.

Michigan State, the Rose Bowl champion and favorite in the Big 10, has made a tidy debut by merely taking the scalp of the Stanford Indians, considered the best in the Pacific Coast Conference.

GEORGIA LOOKS SHARP

As for Georgia Tech and its experienced crew, there is even less change from a year ago. The engineers have been out twice and twice home a winner 14-6.

STOP COLD SYMPTOMS

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent
OTTAWA — Espionage activities by the Russians at the Embassy in Ottawa have ruled out any possibility of a Russian trade office being opened at Winnipeg.

The Russian trade delegation that negotiated with the Canadian government early this year to complete the deal for purchases of Canadian wheat indicated to newsmen that they would be interested in establishing a Russian trade office at Winnipeg.

Ostensibly the Russian trade officers in the commercial office in Winnipeg would be in a position to deal directly with grain traders and the Wheat Board.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police and other government authorities concerned with keeping tabs on espionage activities of the Russians were concerned that such a commercial office might become a centre for the Russians.

Accordingly the Russians were discouraged.

... And a Little Child Led 100 to Christ at Victoria Evangelistic Mission

By DINAH KERR
Times Church Editor

Struck by the powerful message of evangelist Tom Rees, at least 100 persons committed their lives to Christ at Memorial Arena Sunday night.

The final rally of the week-long Inter-Church Evangelistic Mission drew another 6,500 to the arena.

Five times the number who stood at the opening rally eight days ago answered Rees' call for "living sacrifice" to Jesus Christ.

Among them was a little girl, about six years old. When her mother tugged frantically at her coat, she turned and said in a loud whisper: "Why don't you stand up too?" She stood resolutely through the singing of the final hymn.

"This has been a week of great blessing to the people of this city," said mission co-chairman Dr. F. E. H. James. "Mr. Rees is a man specially gifted by God to create in the minds of people a spiritual crisis."

"Great good has been accomplished. Christian leaders and the churches have been brought closer together in co-operation and a great many people have returned to God."

Rees will conduct another mission in the Alberni Valley, Oct. 10 to 21, before returning to England.

"I have enjoyed every moment of my stay here," the evangelist said. "I've made some wonderful friends. I never thought that among those who are my personal friends would be a real live archbishop. But there is and I don't think His Grace (Archbishop Harold E. Sexton) would mind me saying so."

Before giving his address, Rees led the congregation in a hymn, not on the hymn sheet. Everyone joined in fervently. The four-line hymn "Turn Your Eyes Upon Jesus" had become the theme song of the mission. It has been sung at least twice at every meeting held in the past eight days.

Text of his final talk here was the question asked by Pontius Pilate before the crucifixion, "What shall I do then with Jesus which is called the Christ?"

"This is undoubtedly the most important question ever asked," he said. "It is important because it concerns an important person."

"Jesus Christ caused no small stir in Jerusalem when he said he had power on earth to forgive sins."

"He did not claim to be a son of God nor the son of God, but God the son."

"Jesus Christ made tremendous claims but he lived a holy life and although His claims are hard to accept, we accept them because of the life He led."

"I challenge you to find anything in the whole field of literature that would match the words of Christ."

"I challenge you to go through the Gospels and underline everything He said and then tell me 'These are the words of an ignorant carpenter from Nazareth.'

"No, my friends," he said. "The character, conduct and conversation of Jesus Christ bears the clear stamp of Deity."

"God's raising of Christ from the dead is our assurance that Jesus of Nazareth is worthy of our worship and confidence."

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man should lay down his life for his friends. Yet even while we were sinners, enemies of God, Christ died for us."

"Now here is the question again my friends. I challenge you to face it."

"What shall I do then with Jesus which is called the Christ?"

"I don't know what your answer is. I know what mine is. I will trust him as my Saviour. He who died for me. I shall worship him as my God, He who rose from the dead."

"Your finding a place with God depends entirely upon your personal answer to the question."

"Let a man or woman here tonight in spite of all morality, sincerity and good works, reject Christ and cry 'Crucify him' and that man will be rejected by God."

"The question cannot be evaded," he warned. "Many have postponed the acceptance of Christ and God's spirit has ceased to struggle with them."

"They have become hardened and His message no longer stirs their hearts."

"Tonight is your opportunity. Whether you like it or dislike it intensely there comes the haunting question which baffled Pilate."

Rees asked the congregation to leave quietly—"no chattering please"—so that the question "may continue to ring in your ears." Benediction was pronounced by Archbishop Sexton.

BETWEEN TIMES

By

MONTE ROBERTS

There was a great deal of whoop-de-do over the weekend due to an alleged error in this space Saturday.

On Saturday, in the course of dispensing sagacious advice and pertinent information about the change-back to Standard Time, I referred to Sunday, as (and I quote) "Sept. 29."

Thus, only moments after the Times reached the hands of avid readers, the telephone started jumping off the hook.

The first caller, Andy Stephen, said my curt, concise, clear and complete analysis of Standard Time had left him so confused he did not even know what day it was.

(This is nothing unusual for Andy, who rarely knows what time it is.)

Andy, I will admit, was reasonably tolerant in his objections to my reference to Sunday as Sept. 29.

Subsequent callers were completely intolerant, uniformly indignant, and mostly asked me what I was doing? Trying to refute the theory of relativity? Was I a communist, or something? Had I stopped beating my wife?

To these and all other queries, I could only reply patiently: when I said Sunday would be Sept. 29, I did not say in which YEAR Sunday would be Sept. 29.

I explained that Sept. 29 had been Sunday in 1850, for instance, and would be Sunday in 1957.

Sept. 29 was on a Sunday in 1889 and 1895. I said, not to mention 1880, which was a leap year, and Sept. 29 (all things being equal), would be a Sunday in 1963, 1968, and 1974. Not to mention 1885 and 1991.

In fact, I told my carping callers (those few who stayed on the line long enough to listen) Sept. 29 was on Sunday in a total of 15 years between 1850 and 1946, and would be on Sunday 21 times more between now and 2097.

Beyond 2097, I told my callers, I would hesitate to hazard a prediction, for I don't expect to live much longer than 2097, or 2098 at the very best.

But it must be clear to one and all that, when I referred to Sunday, Sept. 29, in this space, I had at least 36 chances of being right.

What other columnist can make that statement?

THREE WEEKS' REST

Premier Away At Secret Holiday Spot

A post-election quiet descended on the Legislative Buildings today with the departure on vacation of Premier Bennett.

Tony Heaney, HMCS Sussex, said someone broke through his Royal Olympic Hotel room window from an adjoining rooftop and refashioned his wallet from trousers he left on a table just inside the window.

The money was taken some time between 12:30 and 9:30 a.m. Saturday as Heaney slept.

He is expected to be away for three weeks.

A cabinet meeting is planned for Tuesday morning. Among those attending will be Lands and Forests Minister Ray Willis, Agriculture Minister Ralph Chetwynd, Provincial Secretary Wesley Black and Health Minister Eric Martin.

Attorney General Robert Bennett is en route back to Victoria after attending a conference on administration of the Motor Traffic Act in Toronto.

STOLE TIRE

P. Bailey, 1005 Pender, told police someone broke into his car, parked outside his home between 2 and 8 a.m. Saturday, and stole a tire and tube and a box of carpenter's tools.

This morning, City Construction Ltd., Industrial, reported missing tools taken some time over the weekend when a rear door to the premises was forced.

A small portable radio was reported missing from Radio Appliance, 783 Fort.

Sunday at 10:20 a.m. police received a report from R. R. Kirk, 601 Trutch, that a skylight at 650-A Yates was broken and entry made to offices of Personal Finance Co. A check revealed everything in order.

The commission was slated to discuss whether a streets and traffic by-law regulation which outlaws discharge of firecrackers within city limits could be enforced.

SHOPPING GUIDE

File Clothes Away Neatly In Plastic Drawer Books

By PENNY SAVER

No matter how carefully you fold your sweaters, when you go a searching through drawers to find just the right sweater for today's outfit, the others are bound to be rumpled and a bit you'll find you have a constant job refolding them.

That's where the plastic clothes books come in handy. To keep blouses, shirts or sweaters individually and neatly folded, place them in their own pages of the clear plastic booklet-type bag. There are three pages, like envelopes, which hold the sweater or whatever it is that you're putting away. Collars are kept clean, and wrinkles are kept to a minimum. A front "page" holds the three other pages together. A couple of these in your dresser drawers will cut rummaging around down to a minimum. They're 98 cents each.

While we're being tidy about the room, take a look at the hat shelf. Pretty messy? Then come see the attractive daisy-patterned hats that are selling in lots of three. Of cardboard, they are patterned in different colors. In the usual shape, round, and about a foot deep, they're selling at $3.97 for three.

Individual hats that sit on the top shelf of your wardrobe come in a variety of colors and styles. Wooden ones in any one of a dozen colors are 65 cents each. Pastel quilted-plastic covered ones to match other wardrobe pieces like bags, boxes, shoe bags and such, are $2.39 each.

Call me at 2-3131 and I'll tell you where to find the items mentioned here in the column.

Colds Are Tough to Avoid,
But Maybe You Can If . . .

There are three things we all tire. You no doubt have had take for granted — relatives, the experience of catching a taxes and colds! They always cold during times of strain and are with us. We find many of emotional stress.

our relatives delightful. We have become accustomed to our taxes. But every time we develop a bad cold we wonder how it could happen to us. In between times we forget what a completely miserable experience it is.

Yet the average person has three colds a year. The cost and the time lost because of this unhappy condition, which we more or less take for granted, runs into staggering totals every year.

Colds are more prevalent in certain seasons. We are in one of them right now; early fall. The next bad time is in the middle of the winter. February is a particularly hazardous month so far as the cold is concerned. The time to be especially careful is early spring when temperatures change rapidly.

There is every reason to believe that the day will soon come when there will be an effective vaccine for all types and the cold will be a thing of the past. Under the direction of Doctor Robert J. Huebner, of the National Institute of Health of the United States Public Health Service, more than 10 different viruses which cause cold symptoms have been identified. Doctor Huebner's team already has developed a vaccine which is about 70 per cent effective in defeating several viruses which cause feverish colds.

There are many factors which combine to give you a miserable cold. In the first place you must come in contact with the virus. You also are probably in a rundown condition so that your resistance is low.

Fatigue is a great ally for the virus. Many women have noticed that they practically never take cold except during the time just before their menstrual periods. Then the body is under strain because of the change in hormone balance. Loss of sleep and overeating also are factors.

There is definite evidence that psychology enters into the pic-

Coquitlam to Take Over RC Schools

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Legal title to three Roman Catholic school properties in neighboring Coquitlam will be taken immediately by the municipality following failure of the school board to pay $10,000 in taxes, Reeve James Christensen said today.

Gas Price Cut in Seattle
SEATTLE (AP)—The Union Oil Co. cut gasoline prices here today but other major producers took no action and dealers said they did not anticipate a gas-price war in the near future.

The Washington Gasoline Dealers' Association, representing service station operators, said the Union cut averaged about .3 cents a gallon, with regular selling at 31.9 cents a gallon, and premium about 3 cents higher.

Detroit Tigers Sold for $5.5 Million

DETROIT (AP)—Eleven businessmen who paid a record $5,500,000 officially took control of the Detroit Tigers today from the Walter O. Briggs family.

The sale, for the largest price ever paid for a baseball company, actually was made in mid-summer but official control went to the syndicate today upon delivery of $4,200,000 in cash.

Fred A. Knoor of Detroit and John E. Fetzer of Kalamazoo, Mich., both radio executives, head the syndicate.

Bud McPherson Goes to Rochester

MONTREAL (CP)—Defenceman Bud McPherson, sold to Chicago Black Hawks along with centre Ken Mosdell early this year, has been returned to Montreal Canadiens by the Hawks.

McPherson was returned because an old knee injury has not responded to treatment. He will work out with Rochester's new entry in the American Hockey League.

Earthquake Shakes Kingston

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—A heavy earthquake shook Kingston for 45 seconds just after noon today.

There were no immediate reports of serious damage or casualties.

Enderby Man Murdered With Hammer

KAMLOOPS (CP)—The RCMP said today Louis Maxine, 26, of the Enderby Indian Reserve was murdered by a hammer-wielding assailant.

The Indian's body was found Sunday morning on the reserve. He has been beaten about the head.

Police said no charges have been laid but a number of suspects are being questioned.

Winnipeg Fog Snarls TCA Flights

WINNIPEG (CP)—Air transportation in and out of Winnipeg was halted for almost eight hours today as heavy fog closed in over the city and airport.

Four TCA flights, scheduled to land during the morning, were diverted to Rivers, 165 miles west, after hovering over the city for several hours waiting for the fog to lift.

Red Feather Total Close to $20,000

A total of $19,643 was collected for Greater Victoria Community Chest by noon today.

The total represents receipts by advance canvassers and first returns from 1,000 men and women canvassers who set out this morning to call on business, industry and staffs of public buildings.

The figure is almost 9 per cent of the $220,000 target figure sought by the end of October.

Officials said the first announced total indicates response is about the same as was noted on the first day of the 1955 campaign.

ENCOURAGING
"While early returns are encouraging," said campaign chairman Harry Gladwell, "we will need support of every citizen this year to raise the additional 10 per cent required to enable the 19 Red Feather services to carry on their essential health and welfare activities in 1956."

Mystery Talks In Crimea Mend Soviets' Split

LONDON (UP)—The Soviet leaders brought Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito and Hungary's Erno Gero face-to-face today in Yalta in an apparent effort to make them end their long-standing feud.

Moscow radio announced that Gero and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin had joined Tito, Soviet Communist Party Leader Nikita S. Khrushchev and Security Chief Gen. Ivan Serov in the mysterious Communist goings on in the Crimea.

The Moscow broadcast made it sound like a pleasant summer outing with a party of 20 or so high Communists and their wives strolling along the beach and sitting down to a luxurious meal. But there were growing indications the meeting was brought on by a major schism in the Communist party.

TITO APPEASED

Tito has become more friendly in recent months with most of the Communist satellites. But he has remained cool to Hungary and Albania; his neighbors who were second only to Russia in attacking him when he broke with Joseph Stalin.

The Communists earlier "ap-peased" Tito by ousting his arch-enemy, Matyas Rakosi, as head of the Communist party in Hungary and replacing him with Gero. But Tito has never indicated any great fondness for Gero, who has made little radical changes in Hungarian policy.

Rakosi was dismissed for being too strong a Stalin man—

France, West Germany Settle Saar Problem

BONN (Reuters) — France and West Germany today stood on the threshold of a new era of friendship with a centuries-old dispute—the industrial Saar territory—apparently settled.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French Premier Guy Mollet Saturday night reached agreement to return the Saar to West Germany by next Jan. 1. All the territory's economic ties to France would be cut by 1960.

Agreement on the Saar opens the way for realization of the 80-year-old chancellor's dream—a confederation of European states.

1,000,000 Germans Regained

Under the agreement West Germany will gain almost 1,000,000 former citizens who voted 2 to 1 last October to dissolve the 10-year Franco-Saar Economic Union, awarded to France after the Second World War in lieu of war reparations from Germany.

In return West Germany will pay France an undisclosed lump sum as compensation for French francs issued in the Saar. The French are believed to have demanded a 500,000,000 mark, about $120,000,000, settlement.

France will also be entitled to dig 20,000,000 tons of coal during the next five years in the Wermuth mine field. After that France retains the right to exploit a limited area of the Wermuth, ensuring a yield of 46,000,000 tons for 20 years. In GETS $8,000—Mrs. Irene Massey, an Ottawa char woman, says she hopes to buy a house with the $8,000 back pension she's getting from the Canadian pension commission. Mother of four children, she wasn't even aware of the money until officials notified her they were reviewing her case, begun in 1940 when her husband was killed in a car accident near Camp Borden, Ont.

Thugs Bind RCMP Officer

ITUNA, Sask. (CP) — RCMP have placed roadblocks throughout the province to stop two men described as "armed and dangerous" who Sunday handcuffed a policeman to his car and escaped after shooting out the cruiser's tire and smashing the short wave radio.

The two men, driving a light green sedan with Montana licence plates, were stopped by the policeman at a roadblock here 140 miles southeast of Saskatoon, set up after an attempted safe-blowing early Sunday at nearby Wishart.

When the policeman approached the car one man pointed a revolver at his head while the other stuck a pistol in his back.

They handcuffed the RCMP constable to his car and drove away after shooting out a tire and smashing the radio.

RCMP declined to release the name of the officer involved. He freed himself by reaching for the handcuff keys and walked two miles to a farmhouse for aid.

All China's leaders were present and with them were some of the world's leading Communists who attended the recent Communist party congress here.

In the march past, goose-stepping contingents were followed by squadrons of tanks, self-propelled guns, artillery and radar-controlled searchlights.

A contingent of paratroopers rode past in Chinese-built trucks.

No portraits were carried in the parade but there was a huge one of Mao under the reviewing balcony and others of Stalin, Lenin, Marx, Engels and Sun Yat Sen erected in the square.

RCMP declined to release the name of the officer involved.
